ROSS, WOUNDED UNTO DEATH, STILL SILENT CONCERNING HIS LIFE

Rochelle Authorities May Get Information in Savanna Clue.

Rochelle, Ill., Sept. 28.—"Howard Ross," the supposed auto bandit who was shot by Officer Robbins of the Rochelle police department Saturday when he attempted to escape from the police who wanted him as a suspected thief, was still alive at the Lincoln hospital this morning, and apparently his condition was little changed from Monday.

Officers from Chief of Police Hodge's office spent several hours with the patient this morning in an effort to get some admission concerning his home, the supposed stolen shoes, etc., from him, but despite their most persistent questioning he refused to add one iota of information to the brief announcement he made Sunday that his name was Howard Ross.

Have Another Clue.
Officers are expected here from Savanna this afternoon to identify Ross as a man who drove into Savanna in company with a negro last week and who made their getaway before the authorities, who suspected them of having stolen property in the Ford sedan in which they were traveling, could get them.

Brief descriptions of the men and the car sought by the Savanna officers tally with those of Ross and his alleged negro companion Sims and the Ford car captured here, and it is believed some tangible clue may be obtained when the Savanna authorities arrive.

Negro Makes Denial.
Charles Sims, a negro, said to have been an accomplice of Ross, has been turned over to the grand jury under the Mann act and is now waiting trial in the Oregon jail where he was taken Sunday. The Ford sedan driven by Ross has been found to be the property of a negro woman said to be the wife of Sims, and living at Sycamore where she runs a notion store. Sims was arrested at Sycamore, but denies knowing Ross, or having been in Sycamore. A number of witnesses it is said, will testify that he was seen in company with Ross for several days.

The negro denies ever having legally married the negro woman but admits having gone with her on a trip to St. Louis, thence to Louisville on their way to points in Tennessee and Georgia. He will be held for violation of the Mann act awaiting additional developments.

Loat Taken from Box Car?
The Rochelle police received word this morning from the Chicago office of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad, that Ross and Sims are suspected of stealing shoes and other merchandise from a boxcar near Elgin. A representative of the company is on his way to Rochelle to identify Ross if possible and the property. Both Ross and Sims are suspected of having criminal records.

Dr. Chandler, who performed the operation said Monday that he had but slight hopes for the recovery of the wounded man.

I do not think he will succumb for several days," he said, "but it will not be long before paralysis and other elements combine to cause his death." Sheriff Baldwin of Rockford was in Rochelle Saturday night to question the negro and Ross. It is believed that Ross hailed from Rockford but the Winnebago county sheriff failed to recognize him.

FINO AND WIFE SENTENCED FOR OPERATING STILL

Pleaded Guilty When Arraigned Before Judge Today.

Mike and Sophia Fino appeared before Judge Stransky in the Circuit court late yesterday afternoon and through their attorney, A. H. Hannan, entered pleas of guilty to charges of manufacturing intoxicating liquor in prohibition territory. Several counts were filed against each of the defendants.

Judge Stransky sentenced Mike Fino to a term of 20 days in the county jail and to a fine of $100 and costs. Sophia Fino, his wife, was sentenced to serve one day in the county jail and pay a fine of $20 and costs.

Sheriff Schoenholz and several of his deputies conducted a raid at the cement hotel near the Sandusky cement plant east of the city several weeks ago and found a rudely constructed still in operation and a large quantity of mash in the basement of the hotel, which was leased by Fino and his wife. The Finos were said to have escaped capture by fleeing from their home and going across country.

A few weeks later they were captured by Chief Van Bibber and Officer Seagren in a ravine at the east city limits where they were found in hiding.

Judge Stransky excused the first panel of the petit jury until Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock and very little business was transacted in court today.

PLANS FOR WORK OF CHAMBER COMMERCE TO FOLLOW MEETING

Suggestions Offered Last Evening Form Basis for Campaign.

A most interesting session of the Dixon Chamber of Commerce was held last evening in the council chamber at the city hall, there being about one hundred members present. President Ed. Vaile presided and opened the meeting with a short and interesting talk. The new by-laws were read by Attorney E. E. Wingert. The by-laws provide for the utmost control possible to the membership direct and were passed as suggested by the committee, with the insertion of a clause which provides that no director can be re-elected until after one year has expired, and another that no committee can assume a liability for the Chamber without permission from the board of directors.

Secretary Carroll King explained the purpose of a program of work and the necessity of the same for an organization of this kind to at all times have something to work towards, even if some accomplishments are for the distant future.

Distribute Questionnaire.
Papers containing questions were distributed to the members who were requested to designate matters in which they are particularly interested, in order that the secretary's office may compile a list of members who are interested in various projects and that the board of directors may be able to ascertain what line of the proposed work to first undertake.

W. B. Brinton, ex-president of the Chamber of Commerce, was called upon for a few remarks, after which the meeting was thrown open for suggestions by any of those present. R. A. Rodesch praised the idea of the tourists camping ground and told of the appreciation he had heard from visitors who had been accommodated at this place. He also mentioned the additional business such a convenience brought to Dixon and suggested that the Chamber either purchase the present site or another suitable location for the establishment of a permanent tourists' camp.

For Military Organization.
Dr. Z. W. Moss introduced the subject of the forming of a federalized militia company in this city in the near future if Dixon expects to retain a military company as it has in years past, a record in which the city has taken great pride since 1858.

Attorney John E. Erwin and Dr. W. C. McVeety expressed themselves as being very favorable to this plan and Major Sam Cushing gave a resume of the benefits to be derived by the maintenance of such a company. He urged manufacturer, retailers and other employers to encourage their employees in enlisting in a company.

A resolution of endorsement was passed voicing the sentiment of the Chamber of Commerce in supporting the organization which has been maintained here for many years.

Opera House Ruined.
The present appearance of the site of the opera house which was destroyed by fire last February, was brought before the meeting and discussed to some length. Several members urged that some action be taken or sentiment be created which would bring about a change in the appearance of the property. It was agreed that the sight of the debris and wreckage on the walk and lots was an eye sore not only to the people of Dixon but to tourists along the Lincoln Highway as well.

Ray Miller urged the adoption of a uniform parking space for automobiles and other vehicles in the downtown section and the lighting of the route of the Lincoln Highway through the city and of the streets from the depots to the business districts.

Several spoke in favor of making use of Assembly park hotel next year. J. M. Tidball told the members of the plan to bring about 200 Presbyterian young people from northern Illinois to Dixon next year for a four day session—adding that such gatherings would greatly appreciate the use of the hotel.

W. B. Brinton urged the removal of the stock yards from their present location in close proximity to the Northwestern passenger station. J. L. Hartwell in a short talk admitted his desire to help Dixon to be a better town.

He stated that he had never before felt his duty to make suggestions and following them up as at this time and he felt that there were many Dixonites who would be called to their duty by, and appreciate their opportunity to work through, the Chamber of Commerce. A number of other suggestions were heard and the meeting closed with President Vaile's expressed hope that such meetings could be held frequently.

LICENSED TO WED

A marriage license was issued late yesterday afternoon to Edward D. Bowne and Mrs. Bertha Miller, both residents of Rochelle.

John Young and J. E. Miller went to Flint, Mich., this afternoon on business for a few days.

LEGION DECIDES ON COMPENSATION PLAN NOW BEFORE SENATE

Provisions of House Bill Approved By Convention Today.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Cleveland, Sept. 28.—The report of the resolutions committee when it is presented to the convention on re-assembling after the noon recess, will not contain a statement one way or the other relative to the stand of the American Legion in regard to political or organized labor, it was learned from an authoritative source during the recess.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Convention Hall, Cleveland, Sept. 28.—The second day's session of the second annual convention of the American Legion got under way here at 10:10 a. m., having been delayed more than an hour while waiting for the committee's reports.

The first official action of the national commander was the appointment of David J. McCoy, of San Francisco, as sergeant-at-arms and 20 assistants.

The convention then plunged into the reports of the different committees. The report of the committee on adjusted compensation was called for and when read started an uproar. The report recommended that "the American Legion * * * give its unqualified approval of hence bill No. 14, 157, which passed the House of Representatives by a vote of 289 to 92, May 29, 1920, and which is now pending before the senate and which provides for the optional plan of either: 1—Adjusted service pay, based on length of service or; 2—Adjusted service certificates maturing in 20 years, based on length of service, or; 3—Vocational training, or; 4—Farm or home aid, or; 5—Land settlement for which 31 states have already made, through their state legislatures, provisions for co-operation."

Report Is Approved.
The report also approved the action of the national executive committee and the national legislative committee in formulating and presenting this adjusted compensation legislation to congress, and directed the national executive committee to take such action as it may deem necessary to ensure prompt passage of the bill. A motion for adoption was carried. Delegate Tidings of Maryland then made a motion that the roll call by states be made in order that congress might see how overwhelmingly the motion had carried. Tidings motion was lost and the report

Peter Kelly Was Called Last Eve

Peter R. Kelly, for many years a resident of this city, passed away last evening about 9:30 at the hospital where he had been receiving treatment for about two weeks. Mr. Kelly's wife died about four years ago. He leaves one brother, Roger Kelly of Chicago, who is expected to arrive and take charge of the body. The complete obituary and funeral announcement will be published tomorrow.

The committee on the time and place for the next convention was called and it recommended that Kansas City, Mo., be given the convention on Oct. 31, Nov. 1 and 2, 1921. Garrett of Missouri moved the adoption of this report and it was carried.

The realtors will discuss questions of national importance bearing on their business especially the housing and rent problem.

MOTHER'S BUSY NOW

BRITISH PRESS ANXIOUS OVER IRISH CRISIS

Unite in Denunciation of Reprisals By the Police.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
London, Sept. 28.—Serious anxiety over the recurrence of the "black and tan" reprisals in Ireland is reflected by English newspapers which sharply call for the government to halt what is described by the London Times as "semi-official lynch law."

Earlier occurrences in Ireland passed without much notice here but recent especially those on Balbriggan and Trim, and the lukewarm criticism of the "black and tan" police forces by General Sir Cecil F. Nevill Macready, military commander of Ireland, are causing considerable disquietude.

Condemnation of recent disorders is not confined to newspapers which are avowedly sympathizers with the Irish Nationalists movement, the conservative Graphic, which is an unswerving critic of the Sinn Feiners declares.

Not Calm and Orderly.
"This is not calm and orderly justice and punishment according to British ideas. It must be stopped."

Charges that the government is following the methods of its opponents are made by the Times, which continues:

"Presumably there is a hope that Ireland will be ground to docility between the upper and nether millstones. The government should be warned of the harvest it may reap." The Standing committee of the Irish peace conference has adopted a resolution recording its conviction that the reprisals "constitute an almost insuperable barrier to the success of the committee's effort in the cause of peace."

BIG SERIES TO OPEN IN EAST; Brooklyn Given First Three Games of 1920 Classic.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Sept. 28.—The National Commission today reversed its decision of yesterday and decided to open the world's series at Brooklyn on Oct. 5, playing three games there. The change was made at the request of Jim Dunn, president of the Cleveland club, who asked more time to prepare the Cleveland grounds in the event his team should win the American League pennant.

The teams will travel on Oct. 8 and open in the American league city winning the pennant, either Cleveland or Chicago, on Oct. 9, for a four-game series.

Brooklyn wins the eighth game on Oct. 14 and will also get the ninth game, if one is necessary as the National league yesterday won the toss for the final game. If a ninth game is played, however, it will be on Oct. 15 instead of Oct. 16, as the day's intermission for traveling has been eliminated.

YANK AVIATORS ARE ELIMINATED EARLY IN RACE

Machine Trouble Forced Them Out of International Event.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Etampes, France, Sept. 28.—(By Associated Press)—Sadi Lecointe, the famous French aviator, today won the international airplane race for the James Gordon Bennett trophy. He covered the course of 300 kilometres or 186.4 miles in one hour, six minutes. F. P. Rainham, the sole British representative withdrew after covering the first lap.

Etampes, France, Sept. 28.—(By Associated Press)—After the international airplane race for the James Gordon Bennett trophy had been in progress less than an hour today the contest had narrowed down to a possible three competitors, one of them Major R. W. Schroeder, an American. Major Schroeder shortly afterward was eliminated, withdrawing after flying 100 kilometres because of ignition trouble. Howard Rinehart, the other American withdrew soon after starting, because of difficulty with the steering mechanism. The Americans thus were out of the race.

Weather Unpropitious.
Bad flying weather held up the start of the race this morning. None of the six entrants, three French, two American and one British volunteered to take the air when 7 o'clock, the hour for starting the race, came. The race was started shortly after 1:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Major Hugh Schroeder, flying a Verville bi-plane and Howard Rinehart, pilot of the Dayton Wright monoplane, were ready to leave the ground as soon as the weather permitted. Roland Rohlf, pilot of the Curtiss machine entered by S. E. J. Cox of Texas was injured Sunday and his machine was smashed. Rihlf's airplane early at the field as a spectator. He had a black eye and was suffering from numerous bruises, but planned to sail for America tomorrow.

When the reserve militia is automatically mustered out of service Oct. 1 Dixon will be without a military organization, and it is desired that a company in the new military machine be maintained here. To make this possible it is necessary that 65 men join such an organization, that they elect their new officers and do all their preliminary work. Captain, lieutenants, etc., must be chosen by the new company from its own ranks, and it is pointed out that there are a large number of veterans of the late war living here who gained wonderful military experience in the conflict and who would make excellent officers for the new organization if one is formed.

Appeal to Legion.
The new military organization of the state should prove attractive to all members of the legion, since in every detail it will be built along the successful plans followed in the U. S. forces during the war. All semblance to the old militia will be lost and the appeal of the promoters of a company in this city is being directed to the ex-soldiers.

Major Sam Cushing, for many years connected with military organizations in Dixon, has offered to do every thing he can to help in the preliminary work of forming a company here, and those who are back of the movement to keep a military unit here are anxious that the young men come forward in sufficient numbers before Friday to insure the continuance of a company here.

Troutman, of East St. Louis, and three other delegates, has virtually put an end to the convention, in the opinion of the delegates. ## TRUE BILLS ARE FOUND BY COOK CO. GRAND JURY

Players Charged with Letting Reds Win 1919 Series.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Sept. 28.—Charles Cicotte, president of the White Sox today suspended every member of the team indicted today in connection with the alleged fixing of baseball games. Seven of the eight indicted are affected. Chick Gandil, the eighth is not playing this year.

The suspension practically kills all hope of the White Sox winning the American League pennant this year.

Just before the indictments were announced a witness was ushered out a dazed rear door of the grand jury room. He was reported to be Eddie Cicotte, the White Sox star pitcher. Cicotte, who was named in the story of the alleged gamblers' plot told at Philadelphia last night by Billy Maharf, former prize fighter, is said to have signed an immunity waiver and then to have gone before the grand jury and testified. The sudden voting of the true bills followed.

Assistant State's Attorney Regiole announced that Cicotte was taken in custody after leaving the grand jury room and is now in charge of William Sullivan, a detective of the State's Attorney's office. He declined to say where the pitcher was being taken.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Sept. 28.—The Cook county grand jury this afternoon voted true bills against the following baseball players in connection with its investigation of alleged "throwing" of world's series games last year:

Eddie Cicotte.
Claude Williams.
"Chick" Gandil.
Happy Felsch.
Charles Rishberg.
Joe Jackson.
Fred McMullin.
"Buck" Weaver.
All are members of the Chicago Americans.

May Add Counts.
While the indictments at present contain but one count, "conspiracy to do an illegal act," Assistant State's Attorney Hartley Regiole in charge of the grand jury investigation announced that more probably will be added after the grand jury session this afternoon.

The eight players are charged with conspiracy to violate a state law. Voting of the indictments was officially announced by H. H. Brigham, foreman of the grand jury, following a conference with Chief Justice McDonald and Alfred S. Austrian, attorney for the White Sox club.

Gandil while still the property of the Chicago club, has not been with the team this year.

Investigation of accusations that members of the Chicago White Sox had "thrown" the 1919 world's series was resumed by the grand jury with President Johnson of the American league and Heydler of the National League expected to be the leading witnesses. Two other witnesses for today, according to announcement made this morning by Assistant Prosecutor Hartley Regiole are Mrs. Henrietta (Continued on Page Two.)

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, Sept. 28.—Objections to the entire plans suggested by the "big five" Chicago meat packers for disposition of their stock yard interests were filed by the Department of Justice today in the District of Columbia supreme court.

To sanction the proposal of the packers to dispose of their stock yard interests to a holding company to be formed by F. H. Prince & Company, of Boston, would mean a sanctioning of a violation of the Sherman and other anti-trust laws, Attorney General Palmer declared in a formal statement.

Today's Market Report

(By Associated Press Leased Wire.)

All Grain Prices Show Decline Today

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Sept. 28.—Much weakness developed in the wheat market today accompanied by general selling. The declining tendency of commodity values was a decided bearish factor. Financial difficulties in Boston operated also to check buyers. Opening prices which ranged from 4 1/4¢ off to 2¢ advance with Dec. 2.20 to 2.23 and March 2.13 1/2 to 2.20, were followed by material setbacks all around.

Corn gave way with wheat. Frost predictions had only a transient opposite influence, the trade being inclined to believe that the bulk of the crop was out of danger. After opening 1/4¢ off to 1 1/4¢ advance including Dec. at 96¢ to 97¢, the market underwent a sag to well below yesterday's finish.

Oats were easier owing to weakness of other cereals, starting unchanged to 1/4¢ down and continuing to descend.

On the decline there was persistent commission house buying of wheat and rallies follow. The close was unsettled 3/4 to 1¢ lower with Dec. 2.23 to 2.23 1/4 and March 2.17.

Dec. corn was relatively firm on account of closing of spreads. The market finished nervous, unchanged to 1/4¢ lower, with Dec. 95 1/2¢.

KIWANIANS TOLD OF UTILITY BUSINESS

Chicago Man Says Rates Should Provide Adequate Return.

Several months ago the students of the manual training department of the high school painted signs to mark the streets of the city and these have been at the city hall during the summer as some mistakes were made on some of the signs which will require a correction. At the regular weekly meeting of the Kiwanis club this noon a committee composed of Carroll D. King, secretary and Edward J. Valpey, president of the Chamber of Commerce, was appointed by President Walter Watkins to take the matter up with the proper authorities and ascertain why the streets of Dixon are not properly marked.

At this time another committee, Louis Pitcher as chairman and L. E. Jacobsen and Lester Campbell, was appointed to arrange for the attendance of a large delegation of Kiwanians and their ladies at the annual state convention to be held at Peoria, Oct. 19 and 20. Dr. L. H. Trovbridge drew the attendance prize and is sponsor for the program to be given at the meeting two weeks hence.

Discussed Utilities.

Harry J. Dunbaugh, member of the legal department of the Commonwealth Edison company, of Chicago, was the speaker today. He chose as the subject of his remarks, a discussion relative to public utilities, and in part, said:

"Thirty or 40 years ago, electric, gas and telephone enterprises in this country were new. The latter is the younger of the three. In the short space of time they have grown rapidly and it is natural that the law and methods of regulation have not expanded with equal rapidity to meet the situation. We have great electrical stations that are sending out electric power from a central plant, such as that of Illinois Northern Utilities company, that are only about 20 years old.

"Such public utilities have resulted in the organizing of a regulatory body known in many of the states as a state public utilities commission. This body has certain duties and rights. Its duties concern all. A public utilities must serve all and is bound to render adequate service. You will recall times when the service has failed, but it is an exception when the service is not up to a standard which in the majority of cases is lived up to.

"It is this exceptional time when we say that the service is bad. It is only human nature that we recall and remember the one time when the service was bad and fail to note the 99 times that it was up to the standard. We are more upset by the exception than by the standard of service.

Large Investments.
"In the state of Illinois there is a billion and a quarter dollars invested in public utilities, not counting the railroads. Of these utilities there are over a million and a half of customers in the state. The communities must have healthy utilities. Electric, gas, telephone and water utilities must give service such as will meet the growth of the city. Show me a healthy city and I will show you healthy utilities. On the other hand show me an unhealthy city and I will show you unhealthy utilities.

"Investors are entitled to a legitimate investment and it is my opinion that the state public utilities commission ought to allow an 10 or 11 per cent increase instead of the five, six or seven per cent increase over the pre-war days.

"We should treat the public utilities as any other business and give the operators credit for endeavoring to render the best service at the lowest rate."

Cox Starts Busy Day in S. Dakota

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Sioux City, Ia., Sept. 28.—Governor Cox, of Ohio, Democratic presidential candidate, began a strenuous day in Sioux City with a platform talk from the rear of his train this morning. Sixteen speeches are on the schedule of the day's tour of South Dakota, which will end at Sioux Falls this evening.

In his talk here Governor Cox defended the world league and assailed the senatorial "oligarchy." He declared that the falling of prices of food products was partly due to the failure of the United States to enter the world league, the European nations being unable to buy American products because they cannot get the necessary credit.

In referring to the heckling of Senator Harding in his Baltimore address last night, Cox asserted that Harding resented questions as to his position on the world league while he invited them. He also declared that if Roosevelt had been alive, the Republicans "would not have dared" to nominate a man who represented the "senate oligarchy."

Many South Dakota Democratic leaders joined Governor Cox in Sioux City and made the tour of the state with him today.

WILSON TAKES HAND.

Washington, Sept. 28.—The first public document in the present presidential campaign to be issued at the white house was made public today. It dealt with the League of Nations and was in the form of a letter to E. M. Swartz of Los Angeles, written by Secretary Tumulty at President Wilson's direction.

MAP OF SCENIC ROUTE FROM CHICAGO TO DIXON AND VIEW OF ROAD NEAR DIXON AND GRAND DETOUR BRIDGE

The above map of a scenic road over the northern route between Dixon and Chicago is reproduced through the courtesy of the Chicago Herald and Examiner. It shows (inset pictures) the beautiful bridge over the Rock River at Grand Detour, six miles from this city, an alluring stretch of good road along the river just east of this city.

G. L. Shelly, Director of the Touring Bureau for the Herald Examiner, published the following story of the trip last Sunday:

One of the most interesting of the many week-end automobile routes appearing weekly in the Sunday Chicago Herald and Examiner during the motoring season leads one through historic villages and along the picturesque shores of Rock River over roads that can be classed as good and fair and is easily covered in a day and a half, allowing several hours in which to loiter along the way.

The first thirty-eight miles of today's route covering the road from Chicago to Elgin, by way of Higgins road, as indicated by map and log on this page appeared in The Sunday Chicago Herald and Examiner August 13, is a concrete pavement for thirty-one miles, crossing the Des Moines River and passing through beautiful forest preserves, and the remaining seven miles, though of dirt, is dragged and in very good condition for motor travel.

Crossing the Fox River in the business center of Elgin and turning southerly, the traveler will enjoy a pretty panoramic view from a winding stretch of concrete, with the exception of a short distance through South Elgin, which is choppy. Attractiveness is added to this view from the fact that the road is upland, following the bend of the river, which is in clear view some distance below.

Leave Fox River.

Upon entering St. Charles, today's route leaves the Fox River and continues over a good travel road in a westerly direction, passing through several quaint villages, following the Chicago-Iowa markers, into the historic town of Sycamore, where one will be impressed with its beautiful homes and splendid shade trees, while two miles distant is the historic site of an Indian village and camping ground during the Black Hawk war.

Continuing along the C-I. marking, the motorist will travel over stretches of graded dirt road, which is good in dry weather, but should not be negotiated after heavy showers without the use of chains, one will soon run for into a good brick pavement for a stretch of 2.5 miles leading onto macadam across the Rock River into the little city of Oregon.

From this point one leaves the C-I. markings and turns south along the Black Hawk trail and through extensive forests, soon running closely along the river, passing famous spots, such as the Devil's Backbone, Castle Rock, Elks Peak and through the state game reserve, into Grand Detour. Here will be found hotels with swimming, boating and fishing facilities.

— Cross Rock River —
The motorist will cross the Rock River at this point over a long iron bridge, affording a wonderful view in either direction.

Attractive scenic treats along today's route do not end here, as the road continues over a winding course of good gravel through rock formations and a beautiful road skirting the river into the romantic city of Dixon made notable as a place of meeting by parties of traders, explorers and military officials a century ago, as well as the place where Abraham Lincoln saw his first military experience, and was the meeting place of Jefferson Davis, Robert Anderson, Zachary Taylor and Gen. Atkins at the time of the Black Hawk war.

Sister Mary's Kitchen

(Copyright, 1920, N. E. A.)

There is not a conserve more delicious than grape to serve with roast fowl. Following is an old recipe known as "Cousin Alice's Grape Conserve":

RAPE CONSERVE.
5 pounds grapes (Concord)
5 pound sugar.
1 pound raisins.
2 oranges.
1 cup nuts.

Wash grapes and pulp. Cook pulp and skins separately. Rub pulp through fine colander to remove seeds, put all ingredients into preserving kettle, using the juice and grated rind of the oranges. Cook thirty minutes and put in jelly glasses.
Spiced grapes are good to serve with roasts.

SPICED GRAPES.
14 cups grapes measured after seeds are removed.
3½ pounds sugar (7 cups).
1 cup grape juice.
1 cup cider vinegar.
1 tablespoon ground cloves.
2 tablespoons ground cinnamon.

Stem grapes. Pulp. Cook pulp and skins separately. Put pulp through sieve to remove seeds. Measure pulp and skins. Put grapes in preserving kettle. Add sugar, grape juice and cider. Boil thirty minutes. Add spices and cook until thick as desired. Put in jelly glasses.

While grapes are plentiful it pays to make grape juice for use during the winter and the next summer. Many desserts can be made from grape juice by "adding a raisin" who knows what drinks might refresh one? Concord grapes are best for juice as they are richer than other varieties. In fact, Concord grapes are first choice for canning and preserving.

GRAPE JUICE.

Pick Concord grapes from stem.

Wash thoroughly. Put in preserving kettle and heat, stirring constantly. When broken pour into jelly bag and let drip. Measure and use one-fourth cup of sugar to every cup of juice. Bring juice and sugar to the boiling point. Pour into hot bottles while boiling and seal.

Grape butter is easy to make and is so good with plain bread and butter and tea. Any kind of grapes may be used. The grapes are pulped and seeded. Then skins and pulp measured together and sugar added in the proportion of pound for pound of fruit and sugar. Cook till thick and put in to jelly glasses.

Worry pays no debts. Work pays by a surplus. MARY.

TERRIBLE TASTE REMOVED FROM CASTOR OIL

New Process Robs Old Reliable Family Remedy of Disagreeable Taste.

The chemists of Spencer Kellogg & Sons, Inc., one of the largest manufacturers of castor oil in the world have perfected a remarkable process by which all nauseating taste is removed from castor oil. In the opinion of physicians and druggists who are already familiar with Kellogg's Tasteless Castor Oil, this remarkable improvement is a real blessing. It's the same old-fashioned castor oil that every physician prescribes. It's 100% pure castor oil. But that nauseating taste has been eliminated. Strength and purity remain the same. Today you can take Kellogg's Tasteless Castor Oil easily. Children take it without coaxing or bribing. Do not accept substitutes. Sold by all good drug stores. If you want a castor oil absolutely without nauseating taste, insist on genuine laboratory filled bottles plainly labelled Kellogg's Tasteless Castor Oil. Three sizes, 15c, 35c and 65c. (Advt.)

THE CRIMINAL

An incident which has occurred in one of the criminal courts in New York City, is exciting considerable comment.

Edwin D. Wheelock, a Wall Street broker, having been summoned to jury duty, was impanelled and sworn on a jury to try two boys charged with crime.

As soon as Wheelock learned the nature of the case he asked to be excused. The judge asked, "Why do you wish to be excused from this case?"
"Because, your honor," he replied,
"the chief criminal is not before the bar."

"What do you mean by 'chief criminal'?"
Who is the chief criminal?"
asked the judge. Wheelock replied,
"Society at large is the chief criminal,
your honor; society perpetuates conditions which breed criminals, tempts men to crime and rewards them if they are sufficiently skillful in crime."

"I never heard of such a thing," replied the judge. "Do you mean to say that if one of your clerks stole a lot of bonds you would excuse him and charge it to society?"

"I would not hold him guiltless," replied the juror, "but I should know that but for our vicious social system the clerk would have no temptation to steal. If society were being tried I would gladly sit as a juror, but I do not wish to be a party to convicting these boys of crime."

The judge excused Wheelock from the jury and from the panel.

This would seem to have closed the incident. But Wheelock's part has just begun. He has been receiving numerous letters from business men, reformers, authors, physicians, state prisoners, unfortunate women, and others all commending his stand and expressing surprise that a judge of experience should "never" have heard of such a thing.

Was his stand correct? What would happen if all men took such a stand?
How would individual crime be punished? On the other hand, has it not pointed to a condition well worth attention? Is not society in large part, at least, responsible for the kind of men and women who make up its entity? Has a boy or girl reared in the glums as good a chance to be honest, high minded, clean and reputable as one reared under ideal surroundings?
Wheelock has performed a useful service, at least, in raising the question.

WRINKLES.

Q—I am only 25 years old, and have wrinkles in my cheeks. I have tried the best cream to remove them but I can't. What shall I do? Can you give me the address of a doctor who can help me?

A.—The application of creams w probably not help your wrinkles, though facial massage and the application of hot and cold water alternately, supplanted by brisk rubbing with a towel, may improve the genera-tone of the parts. If you are otherwise well, you will do well to forget your wrinkles. A smiling, cheerful countenance is an effective antidote.

Such is Life

Take a shot at the moon!
Perfectly safe, this shooting at the moon.
You may not hit the moon.
But there'll be nobody round here who can say you didn't.
If you aimed at something lower we'd know if you missed.
Therefore, aim at the moon!

Worry your brain with the canals
on Mars.
Sit up nights wondering how the canal system on Mars may be improved.

Spend days drawing diagrams of the canals.
Argue with the other fellow that these canals are mere irrigation ditches.

Or prove to him that they are highways of commerce.
This is a very important matter,
worthy a lifetime of study and conversation.

Some wise guys already have learned that it takes thousands of years for light from distant stars to reach the earth.

Star light, still reaching us, is traveling from a sun which long since has darkened.

Scientists now are dopping out the situation we'll be in when the last ray of this extinct sun's light arrives.

Will it cause a drop, more or less,
of rain to fall?

Or what will or won't happen?

Did another star come into existence some million years ago, just at the right time to get its rays to the earth when the falling star's light faded from our vision?

Who knows?

"Who gives a whoop?" asks Squire Abner Harpington.)

And those spots on the sun!

My goodness, they're bothering a large flock of our very best students!

Some classy brains are bubbling over in sun-spot study.

Are the spots getting larger? Or smaller? Are there more now than yesterday? Or less?

If it takes a sun speck 8,641,287
years to grow into a mature sunspot, what will it be 245 million years hence?

That's something to puzzle any conglomeration of gray matter!

Why, honest to goodness, some scientists worry as much over these sun spots as a pretty girl does about a few freckles on her nose!

"Shooting at the moon may be fine scientific sport," observes Cartoonist Bob Satterfield, "but I'd rather see 'em take a shot at something nearer home."

(and)

"The canal system of Mars has less to do with the cost of living," argues Squire Abner Harpington, "than the way railroads block waterways improvements on earth."

(and)

"If all the earth's water-power was used," asserts Secretary of Interior Payson, "electric light would be so cheap and plentiful we wouldn't miss a few stars at night."

(and)

Any pretty girl knows it would be far better if sun-spotting scientists spent that time finding a more efficient method of removing human freckles.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

TWO NOTES.
This was the note that Corry
Coon's boy laid on Mr. Scribble
Scratch's desk:

"Dear Mr. Schoolmaster,
"I am sorry that Petey cannot be at school today for his writing examination, but I have to take him to the doctor's to find out what is wrong with his quills. He has lost so many lately that he is nearly bald and he catches cold every time the wind blows.

"Yours truly,
"Mrs. P. Porcupine.

"P. S.—Why can't Petey write better? He can read reading but he can't read writing."

Mr. Scribble Scratch looked very queer when he read this. First because they couldn't have any examination that day unless the little porcupine boy were there to furnish the pens; second, because it was only too true that he couldn't write. He and

THE BOOK OF ANN.

THE BOOK OF ANN.
The Weak Double the Responsibilities of the Strong.

Not even the shadow of a prison
could keep Ann from falling asleep.
She slumbered as quietly as an innocent child while I remained awake all night. I was weary and wretched, I needed to forget the woes of the day.

My irritation increased, my insomnia thrived on the idea that Ann could evade her desperate dilemma by dozing comfortably while I remained painfully awake to worry about her and to plan for her.

It was unfair. Ann had created a tremendously serious situation, and had assumed that she could rely upon me to get her out of it!

"Unfair—but human!" was my bitter comment as I turned my pillow for the hundredth time. In almost every family some weak selfish unthinking member doubles the responsibilities of the strong. Thus the weak rule the strong, thrive like parasites on the energy of others, and hamper the advancement of the fittest members of society.

I have always tried to do my fair share in carrying the family burdens, but I must confess that I do not like to be hampered by persons who say,
"I never thought," as Ann does. I don't like to bother with other people's affairs, as Ann expects me to do.
I don't like to run things, as I must in Ann's case.

And I do like to be left alone to carry out my personal undertakings according to my own methods. Nevertheless Ann, whom I had known scarcely a month, was spoiling my nights as well as my days. I complained bitterly to myself as I counted the soft chiming of my boudoir clock.

That Ann could sleep at all shocked me very much. I had read once upon a time, that the remorse of a red-handed murderer is seldom so great as to spoil his sleep. And so I concluded that Ann's peaceful slumber did not prove her innocence. What if it only proved that she was a creature born without a conscience?

Whenever I wrenched my thoughts from Ann I fell into still deeper dependency. No matter how the murder case developed, Daddy Lorimer must not hear that any suspicion was attached to Jim's new wife. Inquiries would surely be made when the authorities learned that Ives and Mrs.
Jimmy Lorimer had been good friends.

Daddy must never hear about them.
I needed my husband, but I couldn't wire him to come home. I couldn't risk telegraphing him the least hint of Ann's connection with the murder case. Of course the police were watching all the wires.

I heard the clock strike six before I had formed a skeleton of a plan to shield Ann. For shield her I must, until Bob came home to take the burden of all decisions from my shoulders. Having a husband certainly weakens a woman's judgment. I did not know whether it was right or wrong for me to save Ann from the prosecuting attorney. My husband would have to decide that.

The thing was too big for me to handle. My head was aching. Only the coming of the dawn forced me to make a compromise decision. I would study the morning accounts of proceedings in the Ives murder case and carry on according to whatever hunch
I gathered from the papers.

If no one else was suspected, or charged with being the man's mur-derer, the outlook for Ann might be dark. Silence about Ann might well indicate grave suspicion of her.

Then it would be my duty to go to the authorities at once and convince them that the Hon. James D. Lorimer must not be distressed by any inquiries they might wish to make.
One of his lawyers would have to be trusted with the unfortunate story until Bob came home to manage the case.

The only comfort I had was the peace which had been restored between Bob and me. Only one night had passed since Bob had seen Claude Ives bending close to me. But in the short intervening hours Ives had been slain and Ann was brushing the edge of a horrid scandal. And I understood for the first time in my life how one "can live years in a day."

There's this to be said in favor of the grape juice highball—it doesn't make you miss the last car home.

If a man can sail three miles from shore and take a drink legally, will he fly three miles high and do the same?

The word gentleman has been adopted by the French, reviving the old question—Who is a gentleman?

WEANING THE BABY.

A baby should not be fed at the breast after one year. At that age he needs a more solid food to make him grow strong.

A baby should be weaned gradually,
and the milk at first should be only half the strength of the formula used for a normal child of the same age.
Then the milk should be gradually increased in strength.

Weaning may usually begin at about the ninth month, by giving baby one feeding of cow's milk, using two parts milk to one part water. If he digests well, the amount of water can be decreased gradually until at 10 or 11 months he may be taking whole milk. The number of milk feedings can be slowly increased as the breast feedings are decreased, until at one year of age the baby is weaned entirely. A baby weaned at nine or ten months may be taught to take milk from a cup.

Increase in the baby's diet must be made with caution, especially during the summer. It is better to keep the baby on a low diet than to upset his digestion by over-feeding.

A baby one year of age in July

INDIANS OUT TO GET BIGGER LEAD AS SOX LOAF UNTIL WEEK END

Speaker's Men Hold Precarious Lead of Half a Game.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 28.—Still clinging to a precarious lead of half a game on Chicago in the American league pennant race, Cleveland today prepared to make a bid for the third consecutive victory over St. Louis, and widen the gap separating leader and runner-up. Chicago being idle, a defeat today would still allow Cleveland to retain first place by a slender margin.

Chicago has won one more game than Cleveland, but has suffered two more defeats than its rival. The Indians have six more games to play and by winning five of these will clinch the pennant, even though Chicago is successful in winning its remaining three games. In case Cleveland wins only half its remaining games and Chicago wins all its games, the clubs will be tie.

Chicago being idle today, a defeat for Cleveland would not deprive them of the leadership. The standing in this case would be:

Cleveland won 94; lost 55; per cent .6308.
Chicago won 95; lost 56; percent, .6291.

Bagby, with twenty-nine victories to his credit during the present campaign, was considered the probable pitching selection of Manager Speaker, with Baine, the young left hander, the likeliest candidate for mound duty for St. Louis.

This has been designated as "Sister Day," and local fans will demonstrate their appreciation of the work of the Browns first basemen by presenting him with a silver service.

LAST GAME IN CHICAGO.
By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Sept. 28.—The White Sox were idle today while the Cleveland club was scheduled to play a third game at St. Louis. The Sox open a three game series at St. Louis Friday. Cleveland has six more games to play this season against St. Louis and Detroit and if the league leaders win five games, they will clinch the pennant and face Brooklyn in the world's series.

The White Sox will not appear on the home grounds any more this year unless they win the league championship. In order to do this, they will have to win all the rest of their games while Cleveland loses two. In case of a tie they will meet the Indians in a three game series.

It is furthermore proposed that every one in Sunday school plan to remain for the church service. The midweek service have this for thought and intercession.

Next Sunday afternoon about fifty men of the congregation will endeavor to visit every home connected with the church. It is an "Every Member" visitation. The men are enthusiastic. All the plans are coming to a splendid culmination. Friday evening the men hold another and final meeting at 8 o'clock. This also will be for thought and intercession at the midweek service.

New York Pays Its Tribute to Jacob H. Schiff, Financier

By Associated Press Leased Wire
New York, Sept. 28.—New York bowed its head today in memory of Jacob H. Schiff, financier and philanthropist, who died here last Saturday. Thousands vainly sought admission to the simple funeral services this forenoon at the Temple Emanuel of which congregation he had been a member for half a century.

A special order of service was arranged by the officiating clergymen. Mr. Schiff left a written request that no eulogy be delivered.

Many courts throughout the city adjourned for the day. Governor Alfred E. Smith came here from Albany to attend the services. Men prominent in financial America were among those invited to the synagogue. Flags on some of the great banking houses in the financial district were at half mast.

EX-EDITOR NOW IN JAIL WRITES BOOK ON CRIME

Before and since the "Ballad of Reading Gaol," the stories of prisoners, written in prisons, have gripped public attention. And from Sing Sing penitentiary now comes another such tale, the autobiography of a man convicted of murder and serving a life sentence for his crime. The author is Charles Chapin now "up the river" as a "lifer" and formerly city editor of the New York Evening World.

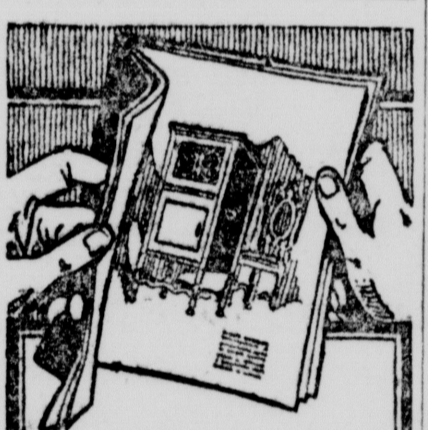

"The amazing part of my story is that I am alive to relate it," is the first line of the author's foreword to "Charles Chapin's Story," just published by Putnam's.

"It has been said by others that after taking the life of my wife I lacked the fortitude to kill myself. The assumption is justifiable, but it is untrue. With nothing left to live for, it was easy to die." Such is the soul-baring statement of this man who wanted to die, and now must live in a cell forever.

"When I gave myself up to the police I realized as vividly as I ever realized any act of my life, that I would be put in prison, placed on trial and convicted, and that I would have to go through the ordeal of ignominious death by legal execution. The thought that I might escape the electric chair and spend the remainder of my life in prison, never came to me."

After sending a bullet into his wife's brain as she lay beside him in their hotel rooms, Chapin, according to his story, went out into the city a dazed man.

"Throughout the night," he writes, "I rode up and down in the subway, crouched in a seat at the end of the car. I fancied myself dead and that it was the shell of what once was me."

that sat so silent and still. It was as if I were in a trance. My hands were like lumps of ice. The blood in my body seemed frozen. For hours I couldn't even think. I had no sensation of thirst or hunger. I just rode on and on like a dead man.

"In the early morning I got off at a station and bought a newspaper. A fascinated with the horror it told. In headline glared at me. My eyes were black type at the top of the page was

"CHARLES CHAPIN WANTED FOR MURDER!"

"Then it all came back. I wasn't dead, I was alive and was wanted by the police for murder! How many headlines like that I had written in my forty years as a newspaper man! And now it was I who was wanted for murder. I got off the train at the next stop and made for the nearest police station."

NEWS FROM DIXON

"We're off!"

The Boys' Council of the Dixon "Y" held their first meeting of the season in the boys' department last evening and after listening to some "stale ones" and the drone of mastication for a half-hour, proceeded to elect officers for the ensuing year.

Garland Waggoner was elected president, Elmer Snyder, vice president and Roy Glesner was re-elected Lord of the Pen-wiper and Purse.

The first business of the council was to elect a staff for the "Y Breeze" which will blow once a month, the first "cyclone" to come in the near future. Those composing the staff are: Editor-in-chief, Lawrence Dale; Business Manager, Elmer Snyder; reporters from the sunny side of the river, Lester Stackpole and Paul Annis; North Side, Donald Stauffer and Robert Rhodes.

Other business taken care of was the coming membership campaign. The council members are enthusiastic boosters and have excellent prospects for a successful drive.

A committee was also appointed to arrange a program for State Boys' Work, Secretary Boyd I. Walker, who will be in Dixon next Tuesday. This will be Mr. Walker's first visit to this city and the council is planning plenty for him to do.

Before leaving a rising vote of thanks was given to Mrs. Waggoner, Mrs. Crouch and Mrs. Stauffer in appreciation of the excellent meal served by them.

The boys present at this first attempt were: James Andrews, Paul Annis, Lawrence Dale, Roy Glesner, Howard Hall, Robert Rhodes, Elmer Snyder, Lester Stackpole and Donald Stauffer. The "Older Boys" were Rev. Mr. Waggoner, Edwin Kuhn, Elmer Rice and Harry Phillips.

"Watch us go."

WOMEN SHOULD TAKE WARNING

If the statement made at a New York Assembly of women, that healthy American women are so rare that they are almost extinct, is true, it is time for the women of America to take warning and look to their health. It may be headaches, backaches, dragging down pains, nervousness, mental depression that are tell-tale symptoms of some organic derangement for which Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—a simple remedy made from roots and herbs—is a specific and may be relied upon to restore women to a healthy normal condition.

Chicago Bankers to Use Armored Autos to Transport Money

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Sept. 28.—Chicago bankers today were discussing the advisability of establishing a fleet of armored cars to transport money from the financial district to industrial centers, or from outlying banks to the downtown institutions.

The plan is designed to put a stop to payroll robberies.
The idea was presented to a group of bankers by Bert Bettelheim, a private detective and calls for five units, each of which will consist of an armored truck and a touring car. The truck crew would consist of a chauffeur and it would be conveyed by the touring car bearing a chauffeur and three armed men. One feature of the equipment would be a large gun which would be set ringing by the chauffeur at sight of bandits, and which could be stopped only by the use of a special key.
Bankers said they expected the service would be installed here within a few weeks.

THIN PEOPLE SHOULD TAKE PHOSPHATE

Says nothing like plain Argo-Phosphate to put on firm, solid, stay the flesh and muscle and increase strength, vim, vigor and nerve force.

Physicians claim there is nothing that will increase weight, strength and endurance like organic phosphate commonly known by druggists as argo-phosphate. It is inexpensive and is sold by all leading druggists everywhere under a guarantee to give satisfaction or money refunded. Weakness and thinness are usually due to starved nervous conditions.

Our bodies need more phosphates than are contained in the foods we eat.

If you wish a more rounded figure and plump well-developed arms, neck and bust in place of hollows you should simply take plain argo-phosphate as it builds up and restores run-down nervous conditions by phosphatizing the system. It transforms thin appearance and an increase in weight is often times quickly produced.

The increase in weight also aids in improving the general health. Sleeplessness, nervousness, lack of energy and ambition quickly disappear.

Pale cheeks are changed to rosy ones and dull eyes become bright.
Miss Lena Brown of Atlanta, Ga., who only weighed 90 pounds reports that she gained 10 pounds in two weeks time and says argo-phosphate has made a different person of her and she has never felt better in her life.
SPECIAL NOTICE.—Owing to the fact that so many physicians and druggists are recommending argo-phosphate for relieving all nervous, worn-out debilitated conditions and the unusually large sale for argo-phosphate there will be found in the market numerous substitutes for the genuine article. All imitations are inferior preparations and owing to its unusual flesh producing qualities it should not be used by any one unless they desire to put on flesh and increase in weight. Mr. and Mrs. Dick were removed to their home where their wounds were dressed and are now getting along as well as can be expected.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dick met with what might have been a serious accident about 8 o'clock Tuesday evening while driving a horse and buggy on the road between the Mason and Cheesman farms. The buggy was struck by a passing automobile driven by Daniel Stauffer. Both Mr. and Mrs. Dick were thrown out cutting Mrs. Dick about the head and face. Six stitches were required to close the wound on her forehead. It was thought at first that Mr. Dick was only badly bruised but it was later discovered that he had suffered a broken collar bone. The buggy was completely demolished, the auto escaping with only a broken wind shield. Mr. and Mrs. Dick were removed to their home where their wounds were dressed and are now getting along as well as can be expected.

MAZOLA

Many cooks can't make a light cake rich or a rich cake light

Using too much shortening is the cause of most failures in baking.

Mazola gives richness and avoids sogginess.

Because you use 1/4 to 1/3 less of Mazola for shortening than butter, lard or compounds.

This means more than economy. It means a rich cake—yet a light cake—easily digested. Crisp, flaky pie crusts are likewise made with Mazola. Many an inexperienced housewife made her first successful pie crust when she tried Mazola.

Mazola is not an animal fat. It is a pure vegetable oil—from an edible source. It contains no moisture but is all fat—100%.

Once you try Mazola for making cakes and pie crusts you will never go back to butter, lard or compounds.

Camel CIGARETTES

HOWDY PETE!

Always learn something when I head into this old town. Passed my deck of Camels to a fine, business-looking citizen in the Pullman dressing room this morning and this opened up a conversation. Listen, Pete, that man talked the Camel language according to Hoyle!

"Camels are the very quintessence of cigarettes" said this party. Pete, get that word? It fits—it spreads the news—it spills the whole Camel story! And, if you don't get what I'm driving to you, look up the word in Webster's! Why, Uncle Dan put it there when he dreamed Camels were coming! That man slipped into one word: mellow-mild-body, no cigarette aftertaste, no cigarette odor—and—the best cigarette in the world at any price!

Pete, why do you hear men of all types everywhere actually boosting Camels? That's because they know Camels are right! They know from Camels flavor that Camels have the quality—and—they know that Camels blend of choice Turkish and choice Domestic tobaccos makes the most delightful cigarette any man ever put between his lips!

Old oil well, I'm no gusher, but the way Camels are going to more and more men every one of the seven days in every week is a sight to see!

P. S.—Leaving for K. C. tonight housed as close to the roof as they could put me! Drop me a line care Hotel Baltimore.

Philadelphia—Tuesday.

Pilot's Injuries Were Exaggerated

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Etampes, France, Sept. 27.—The injuries of Roland Rohls, who was hurt yesterday when the "Texas" airplane in which he was practicing for the James Gordon Bennett aviation cup race tomorrow was wrecked landing here, are not so serious as at first feared.
This was revealed by an X-ray examination of the American aviator this morning. The examination showed the injuries consisted chiefly of a slight fracture of the shoulder, with bruises and scratches. Rohls probably will be able to leave the hospital Wednesday.

Washington, Sept. 27.—Missouri has a population of 3,403,547, an increase of 110,212 or 3.3 per cent over 1910, the census bureau announced today. Unless the state of Michigan which ranked as eighth most populous state in 1910, gains approximately 600,000, Missouri will retain its present rank of seventh state, although its population has shown for the last decade its lowest relative increase in history and its third numerical gain since the first census in 1830.

The Borden Institution

Milk is the one nature food that alone sustains life. To insure its purity and quality, to conserve its supply in milkless regions and seasons, to distribute it in convenient forms throughout the whole country—such service makes Borden's a national institution.

A pioneer in these ideals more than 60 years ago, the code of purity and quality Borden has always maintained, has since set the standards for later government regulations.

The Borden name is your guarantee of pure milk products.
